PRICE, THREE CENTS

BERWYN CAPTURES LEAGUE TILT AWAY

Poor Fielding Proves Costly for Narberth as Opponents Were Outthit.

GROUNDS WERE POOR

BY JOHN UBERTI.

Leaving behind them a ball park which ranks first on the Main Line, Narberth journeyed 12 miles to obtain a reverse decision in a sensational combat of the diamond. On account of my intimacy with Berwyn's sheriff, I acquired information that throughout the week, with the exception of Saturdays, the field on which the two teams battled for league honors is rented out to farmers of the neighboring styx who find it an ideal pasture in which to graze their cattle. Indeed, the Atlantic could not have been any more bumpy the night the Hesperus met with its tragic fate. Up through Ardmore, Bryn Mawr, Devon, Wayne and Berwyn the line of Narberthites went in procession form, passing the mark of any visiting rooters on Narberth's home field. Among the 350 fans who sat anywhere from the crude boards which represented a grandstand to the shady limbs of neighboring trees known as the bleachers in that vicinity, at least 100 were local rooters.

A poor field, and no dugout were additional elements the Walzermen had to face under that blistering sun of August 4.

Johnny Gillespie, new comer in the Narberth line-up and a Yankee prospect, was the leading hitter of the game as he toted the ash for two hits, one a homer. Doyle, rival outfielder, was another top-notch as he collected three hits, one a triple.

But Noblitt and DeShulia, pitcher and "backstop" respectively, performed the same feat of the first encounter, the effective battery at critical points spelling defeat to the tourists.

As usual, errors and juggles on the part of Narberth cost them the game, Gillespie's failure to grip a heave from the outfield resulting in Doyle's Nursery Boys chalking up an unearned point.

PIEDMONT SMOKED OUT BY NARBERTH

Mulligan and Cornog Star in Air-Tight Twilight Battle.

BY JOHN UBERTI.

Following Berwyn's sensational triumph the local nine returned to their home field to turn back the widely-known and dangerous Piedmont team by the score of 8-5. Before a crowd of 400 Narberth played magnificent ball, outthuring and outplaying the tourists to win from a sudden rally in the lucky sixth.

John Mulligan's field performance and ash totting were the features of this conquest, as Cornog's three assists proved a great help in the visitors' downfall. Al Cornog, formerly of Swarthmore, and present baseball, football and basketball coach at Haverford College, was the peppy little fellow on second who proved a nemesis to the colored aggregation.

Master, on the slab for the locals, allowed six bingles, as Babb and Martin nabbed two each as the Walzermen tallied one shy a dozen. Gene Davis and Bob Martin, totting a mean ash in the sixth frame, pushed the apple out into the bleachers for a triple, each man shipping in a run. The fact that Davis was troubled with a sore foot cost the first-baseman a home run.

Piedmont's one-armed wonder out in center field was the big gun on the rival nine, gripping every hit as Martin, his rival man, failed to grasp them with both paws. A double to deep center was Turner's big achievement.

Both teams scored in the second frame; Narberth chalked up one and the tourists two. With two out Graves singled and stole second and third. Banks got two bases when Hampshire muffed.

SERVICE AND ATTENTION FEATURED BY MERCHANTS TO PLEASE BUYERS

Salespeople Aim to Give Best Possible Service in Every Way to Make Home-Buying Pleasant as Well as Profitable.

"Service" is a big word for the local merchants, for they are striving every minute of their trade hours to give the maximum of attention and good will to the people of Narberth.

Residents of the Borough and vicinity are taking kindly to the suggestion of the local merchants to look over merchandise here before going out-of-town to buy. They realize that greater co-operation in this respect will work for the community's advantage.

They also realize that they are trading among friends. No matter what some folks say to the contrary, there certainly is a lot of sentiment in business. Friendship, for instance, makes more satisfactory sales than all the cleverness and argument in the world.

You like to trade at a certain store—not because its displays are arranged in a scientific way, but because the folks who serve you are always friendly and helpful.

Just that very thing—"Friendly Service"—is the power that draws people together into communities like this, where everybody can enjoy the many benefits of neighborly co-operation.

And "Friendly Service" is the sentimental reason why you find it very much to your advantage to trade with our advertisers—to buy where you feel at home, where your friends will see that you are well satisfied.

Get acquainted with our business men. You will find them friendly. You must appreciate the full meaning of this friendliness to recognize the underlying value of service that goes with it.

A woman living in the Borough spent a whole day out-of-town getting a few things that she

CYNWYD TEAM IS DOUBLES VICTOR

Johnson and Olhausen Extended to Win State Clay-court Championship.

SHOWED FINE TENNIS

Wallace F. Johnson, veteran Cynwyd Club chop-stroke artist, and Joe Olhausen, youthful Cynwyd and Penn A. C. racquet-wielder, were forced to play seven sets of grueling tennis to capture the Pennsylvania State clay-court doubles championship, defeating Harold Colborn, Cynwyd and former Penn ace, and Harold McGuffin, of Belfield, 10-8, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3, at the Narberth Tennis Club yesterday.

Earlier in the afternoon Johnson and Olhausen were extended by Norman Bramall, Idle Hour, and J. Hamill, of Moorestown, N. J., in the semifinal round, but won, 2-6, 6-4, 6-2.

In spite of the terrific heat, fine tennis was in order in both matches. Johnson's accurate lobbing often found holes in the opponents' court, while McGuffin's hard driving and sharp volleys kept his team in the running.

Three hours in the broiling sun left the players and also the umpire, W. D. R. Evans, in a more or less exhausted condition.

Semifinal Round: Wallace Johnson, Cynwyd, and Joe Olhausen, Penn A. C., defeated Norman Bramall, Idle Hour, and J. Hamill, Moorestown, 2-6, 6-4, 6-2.

Final Round: Johnson and Olhausen defeated Harold Colborn, Cynwyd, and Harold McGuffin, Belfield, 10-8, 6-2, 3-6, 6-3.

COME FROM AFAR

Balcynar Rotarians Entertain 10 Visitors—Hear Humorous.

Guests from South and West were among the 10 entertained by the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club at its luncheon Tuesday, held at the Cynwyd Club. They were Charles Garnsey, Florida; George McClellan, member of No. 1 Rotary Club, Chicago; his friend, Dr. Tanner, Cynwyd; William McVey, of Harvey, Ill.; George Painter, Philadelphia, and Wesley Long, John Albrecht, William Frankenhof and Ralph Springer, of the Ardmore Rotary Club.

John J. Devlin, entertainer, who was introduced by Charles B. Aldred, amused the members with several stories and jokes. The meeting was well attended by 24 members and their guests.

Magistrate Fred Walzer, of Narberth, will have charge of the meeting next week, which will be devoted to a discussion of fellowship activities, of which he is chairman.

MANY WOULD FISH

Vacation's stimulus to fishermen is reflected in the number of licenses being issued at the office of County Treasurer William H. Fox, in Norristown. The permits to fish in the waters of Pennsylvania are now being issued at the rate of 15 a day in Montgomery county.

VETERANS SELECT OFFICERS PRO TEM.

New Post Names Hickey and Lyons—Will Limit Territory.

TEN MEMBERS ENROLL

Temporary officers for the newly-formed Main Line Post of Veterans of Foreign Wars were named at a recent meeting in the Cynwyd fire house. They are Daniel J. Hickey, Montgomery pike, Cynwyd, commander, and Frank Lyons, Meeting House, Narberth, adjutant.

Permanent officers will be elected at a meeting to be held in the Cynwyd fire house Monday, August 13, when the post will formally organize and make application for its charter. Ten veterans took their oath of obligation at the meeting held this week, and it is expected many more will affiliate themselves with the new organization at its next meeting.

Arthur T. Morrissey, Department Vice Commander for Philadelphia, administered the oath. Present at the gathering were members of the Herbert G. Sparrow Ship, Camden all-naval post, and representatives of Philadelphia groups.

It was decided to limit the territory of the new post to Bala-Cynwyd, Merion, Narberth and West Manayunk, instead of including the entire Main Line, as had originally been planned. Service veterans of any United States war who desire to affiliate are requested to communicate with either Adjutant Lyons or Commander Hickey before the August 13 meeting, or to attend that meeting armed with credentials showing their eligibility for membership.

No name has been decided upon for the post, although it is expected that two local veterans will be honored, as in the case of the Bullock-Sanderson American Legion Post, Ardmore.

REPLACE GUTTER

The brick gutter at Forest and Haverford avenues was replaced this week by one of crushed stone and macadam. The sewer connections at this point were also repaired. The new piece of street does away with what was one of the biggest bumps a car could take in the Borough as the old gutter was deeply curved.

NARWAY TAKES FIRST

The newly-organized Narway Boys' Club took its first game from the Dead End B. C. by a 9-8 score.

Blessing, of Narway, led with the stick, while his team-mate, Brennan, pitched a no-hit game from his entrance to the box in the fourth inning. The base stealing of Poorman, of the home team, and Wilson, of the visitors, endured throughout the game. Narway will meet all comers of its class.

REGIONAL PLAN IS OVER-SUBSCRIBED

Many Main Line Residents Make Large Donations to Fund.

CORPORATIONS DONATE

The $500,000 fund for Regional Planning has been oversubscribed to $524,837.32.

Assured of adequate financial support for its three-year program, Colonel Samuel Price Wetherill, Jr., of Haverford, who Monday announced the success of the campaign which started April 11 and ended June 2, said that the Regional Planning Federation of the Tri-State District was proceeding on its intensive program of studies and surveys which will result in a Master Plan for the 3500 square miles of region surrounding Philadelphia.

At a cost of $40,000 the entire district will be photographed from the air as a preliminary step in the preparation of the Master Plan, which may be completed in three years.

The plan will comprise seven major projects, including a system of highways, boulevards and bridges; parks, parkways and other public reservations; an adjustment of railway, passenger and freight transportation facilities; a plan for the general development of the waterways and ports of the region; general recommendations as to what groups of communities might combine to provide sanitation, drainage, flood control, and water supply necessities; a system of airway and landing fields; and a plan for the most economical and socially desirable use of all the land in the region.

A list of Main Line contributors to the fund, together with their commitments, follows:

Samuel Rea, $5000; Samuel Price Wetherill, Jr., $5000; Samuel T. Bodine, $5000; Cyrus H. K. Curtis, $10,000; William S. Ellis, $5000; Clarence H. Geist, $25,000; Bell Telephone Company, $15,000; Pennsylvania Railroad Company, $15,000; Alfred M. Collins, $1500; William Lawrence Saunders, $1000; Mrs. Edward Bok, $1500; Edward Bok, $2500; W. Plunkett Stewart, $1500; William P. Gest, $1000; Charlton Yarnall, $1500; J. H. Carstairs, $3000; Supplee-Wills-Jones Milk Co., $1000; John H. McClatchy, $2000; Charles Warner Co., $1200; John R. Maxwell, $1000; Louis R. Page, $1000; Philadelphia Suburban Counties' Gas & Electric Co., Ardmore, $3000; Keystone Automobile Club, $1500.

The list of businesses subscribing indicates their conviction of the industrial desirability of such a plan as well as the aesthetic advantages to be derived from its adoption.

FRIENDS MET HERE

Merion Meeting Scene of Philadelphia Quarterly.

Old Merion Meeting on Montgomery avenue was the scene Sunday of the Philadelphia Quarterly Meeting of Friends. Seventy members were present, representing the following meetings: Race Street, Green Street, Schuylkill Valley, Radnor, Haverford and Merion.

The report of the yearly meeting showed that a representative of the Arch Street Friends, the Orthodox branch, had been sent to the meeting. This was the first time since the split which took place over 100 years ago that Hicksite and Orthodox Quakers met together. The action was looked on as the inauguration of a peace movement and was warmly commended by all present.

W. Ashbridge Cheney was acting clerk of the meeting in the absence of Miss Marion Justice, clerk of Merion Preparative Meeting, who is in Europe. Narberth members in attendance included Millard Justice and J. Bertram Nesper.

RECEIVE SCHOOL AID

Narberth borough received a check for $5,804.97 this week, as its share of $5,406,068.54 distributed by State Treasurer Samuel S. Lewis from Harrisburg to 2224 third-class school districts as the third reimbursement of the biennium.

TAX BILLS WILL BE MAILED SOON

Tax Duplicate for 1928 Received by Tax Collector Edwin P. Dold.

MUST PAY TO VOTE

The tax duplicate has been delivered this week to Tax Collector Edwin P. Dold, who announces that the bills for the same will be in the mail shortly. Inasmuch as the mailing of tax bills is purely a courtesy, borough citizens are reminded that the non-receipt of a bill is no excuse for not paying it according to the law. Hence, it behooves anyone not receiving one to get in touch with Mr. Dold.

Boroughites will benefit this year by two reductions: that of one mill in the school tax rate, making it 18 mills, and the more significant cut of four mills in the borough rate from 24 to 20 mills. The county rate remains the same—four mills. There is also the per capita school tax of every adult citizen of $5, and an occupation tax for borough and county. A potent argument for the prompt payment of bills this year particularly, is the fact that no citizen has the right to vote who has not paid his or her county tax.

There is a 5 per cent. penalty on unpaid county taxes after September 15, 1928, a 5 per cent. penalty on borough taxes unpaid after January 1, 1929, and a 5 per cent. penalty on school taxes unpaid after October 1, 1928. While on the borough taxes, if paid on or before October 1, 1928, there is a 5 per cent. discount.

The Tax Collector, E. P. Dold, will be at the Narberth National Bank after September 1 in the mornings from 8 to 9 o'clock, Friday evening, from 7 to 9, and Saturday mornings from 9 to 12. Mr. Dold requests that any bills sent in error be returned at once with a memorandum, and that errors and corrections be attended to at once, and transfers noted so that new owners may be given a chance to earn the discount.

I. WARNER ARTHUR CLAIMED BY DEATH

Magistrate Was Old Resident and Former Bryn Mawr Postmaster.

Scores of citizens, many township officials and a detail of Lower Merion police attended the funeral services in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Ardmore, 2 P. M., Monday, of Magistrate Isaac Warner Arthur, who died last Wednesday at the age of 73.

Lieutenant Mullin headed a squad of police who acted as pallbearers. Assisting him were Officers Samuel and Archie Adams, Frank Dolan, Owen Henshaw and Emil Piquet.

Rev. A. C. Kanzinger, pastor of St. Paul's Church, conducted the services, which were followed by Masonic rites held at the grave in the Lutheran Cemetery. Friends of the former magistrate who were present included four fellow-graduates of the University of Pennsylvania, class of '75: Effingham B. Morris, John B. Townsend, William R. Philler and William Wayne.

Mr. Arthur, who was Lower Merion's senior magistrate, was born January 9, 1854, a son of the late Charles J. and Rebecca Arthur, of Bryn Mawr. He studied law, graduating from Episcopal Academy and the University of Pennsylvania. For a time he saw service as a civil engineer and then took charge of his father's ice establishment in Bryn Mawr.

Appointed by President McKinley as Bryn Mawr postmaster, he served under three Presidents in that office. His interest in Lower Merion Republican party affairs led to his appointment as magistrate to succeed Richard T. Lewis, of Bryn Mawr, who died some 10 years ago. Re-elected November 8, 1927, his term would not have expired until January, 1930.

Surviving him are a sister, Miss

PARKING PESTS

Among some minor nuisances are the parking pests. Exception is taken to them not because they park, but the manner in which they park. Wide white lines have been carefully laid down on Haverford avenue indicating the space a car is to occupy when parking there. Judging by the way many vehicles are placed, one might assume that faulty vision was the rule instead of the exception.

Cars left at crazy angles, half in one stall and half in another, doing their best to hog both should not be allowed to park at all. The available space in the business section on Haverford avenue is small enough as it is without careless parking making it smaller.

Another grudge we have to pick is with delivery trucks which are backed up to the north side of Haverford avenue and extend their bodies over half the sidewalk. There is no excuse for this. Sidewalks were made for pedestrians, not for trucks to sprawl over. When three feet of a four-foot walk is occupied by a truck's rear it is time something was done about it.

An example of the carelessness prevalent was furnished Tuesday morning when the truck of a fruit market was backed nonchalantly to the curb, the body banging against a light post so violently that the globe was shattered. Luckily no one was under it at the time.

A little more care and consideration for the rights of others would adjust this petty but irritating situation.

BERWYN WINNER

Narberth took four runs out of 13 hits off Noblitt and Berwyn grabbed five pointers out of nine bingles off Zip Long. Therefore it is evident that the local boys did not play quite so well in the field.

When one looks over the records of various sports, one reads of what is known as freaks or breaks of the game; and this contest offered one at the expense of the rival team. In the eighth stanza, Gilly hit a short pop, whereupon Noblitt sprinted towards it, his partner doing likewise, which resulted in a double knockout. Noblitt remaining in that position for about 10 minutes. However, the game Noblitt and DeShula returned to their respective positions to win out in fine fashion.

Narberth took one in the second and stayed ahead until the fourth when the home team took two. Humphries got a solitary lick, the first baseman's error aiding him and Walt singled. Townsend skied to center, forwarding Humphries, and Mike strolled. Zip missed three strikes and Gillespie was thrown out. One run, one hit, one error.

Doyle doubled to center and Umback combed a bingle to Mulligan, who juggled the ball and failed to oust Doyle, who stood right behind him when he changed his mind about advancing to third and returned to the former sack. Shank's triple shipped in Doyle, Umback scoring as Gillespie missed Fleck's toss from the outfield. Two runs, three hits, one error.

During the past years of league competition, Narberth has had what was well known over the entire Main Line as the lucky seventh. However, during the 1928 season the local baseballers failed to impress the Narbiters in that glorious inning until last Saturday when it rallied with three runs to nose out Berwyn by one chalk-up, only to watch the home folks score one in that same inning and take the game with two more in the eighth.

The Princeton star clubbed a hard grounder to short, succeeding when the first baseman dropped the apple, the umpire changing his decision of "out" to "safe." Long belted a hit to center and Gillespie came to bat. It was then that the Yankee favorite smashed a hard one out to center shipping in his two teammates. Davis singled over the second baseman's head and Fleck and Humphries were retired on flies. Three runs, four hits, one error.

In an unusually short frame, the Doyle's Nursery Boys took one. With one out, Verna, playing for Tompkins on second, got a single and so did Scott, advancing the fleet-footed substitute to third. Verna scored as DeShula singled, forcing Scott out on second. Noblitt blanked. One run, three hits, no errors.

In the eighth Berwyn swept past the local score, thus keeping their record clean, won three, lost none. With one out Doyle grounded to left for one base and Umback tripled to the same place that gave Johnny his home run, thereby scoring Doyle. Shank cudgelled one to right, admitting Umback. Two runs, four hits, no errors.

In spite of the fact that no scoring was done in the closing session, the visitors furnished their thrilling act in this round. Gillespie strolled and Davis gained first from his well-placed bunt. The umpire put Gene out of the game and McMonagle replaced him. Gilly popped short and Noblitt and DeShula running for it at full speed came together with full force, knocking each other out.

Urges "Dole System"

More than 500 members of Philadelphia labor unions gathered on the peaceful, leisurely campus of Bryn Mawr College Saturday afternoon to hear "unemployment insurance" and the "five-day week" cited as panaceas for all of their working ills by a group of experts, employers and employees, at the two-day conference arranged by the Labor College of Philadelphia. The conference ended Sunday with a number of round-table discussions in the buildings and on the lawns of the Bryn Mawr Industrial Summer School.

Within the natural amphitheatre formed by the heavy foliage of the suburban college campus, leaders interested in better conditions for the workers of America—both men and women—heard with mixed scepticism and belief Dr. I. M. Rubinow, executive director of the Jewish Welfare Society, declare that crime, insanity, child mortality and starvation will be lessened in any country that adopts the English "dole system," better known to its American advocates as "unemployment insurance." No nation that adopts such a policy of providing for the lean days of slack work ever will find that "deterioration" is setting in, he promised.

After his address, representatives of the Central Labor Union and the Painters' District Council, No. 27, the two organizations sponsoring the conference, indicated that it will be some time yet before American labor and capital come to an agreement upon the adoption of a "Federal law calling for unemployment insurance."

GOOD TIME TO ADD

TO HOME'S CHARM
The summer months afford a fine opportunity for beautifying the home, especially where this work can be done while the family is away. Here, in Narberth, the Atlas Company, Inc., makes it a business to beautify homes. The scope of this work embraces painting, wall papering, upholstering, decorating, as well as window shades and draperies.

The interior of the home should present a cheerful appearance, especially during the long fall and winter days and nights. Nothing adds more to home charm than attractive interior decorating and wall paper patterns are shown, the choice of any of which would add to the appearance of any residence.

This firm also specializes in window shades and draperies, as well as making slip covers and installing swings. Samuel N. Hall is president of this growing Narberth concern.

AUTO MECHANICS HERE
KEEP ABREAST OF TIME

The expert auto repair man has no sinecure these days. The new models are coming out weekly with new improvements, and the garage expert must study the new designs and make himself acquainted with the innovations.

This expert attention is studiously followed by C. E. Funk, who has conducted a repair business in Narberth for 10 years. Exact workmanship is demanded by Mr. Funk of all his men, and new motor designs are studied as soon as they put in an appearance.

At the Funk Garage, on Essex avenue, the high-pressure oiling system and car washing plans are operated. This firm also sells Yale tires, and Sunoco oils and gasoline.

SELECTION OF KEDS
AT THE DAVIS STORE

One of the main essentials in participating in games of a competitive nature is that of sure-footedness. To slip is to err, and interferes with perfect timing, no matter what the sport should happen to be.

To escape this chance, it is a good plan to wear shoes that will not slip, such as Keds. At the Davis Store, at 224 Haverford avenue, they are showing a wide array of Keds for all sport purposes. It is one of the biggest stocks of Keds outside of Philadelphia. They have them in all sizes.

The Davis Store is recognized as Narberth's oldest business place.

NEW ENGLAND TOUR

For the motorists who enjoy following the gypsy trail, the Keystone Automobile Club suggests a rambling trip through Maine, with its beautiful lakes, woods and rugged coast line.

"Many tourists," said Joseph Murphy, manager of the Keystone Automobile Club in Ardmore, "need information on good camp sites. There are 53 maintained by the State in Maine. Road conditions are good, although many of the roads are gravel."

From Ardmore, drive to Overbrook and turn left onto City Line avenue. Drive to the East River drive and turn right to Hunting Park avenue. Turn onto Hunting Park avenue which leads directly to the Roosevelt Boulevard and the Lincoln Highway.

Drive to Newark. In order to avoid New York City traffic, drive north through Belleville, Carlstadt, Hackensack and Cresskill to Alpine, where the ferry to Yonkers is taken. Pass then, through White Plains to Port Chester, and turn left onto the Boston Post Road.

Follow the Post Road to New Haven, and continue on the Shore road to New London, Providence and Boston. From Boston, drive north through Cambridge, Everett, Chelsea, Revere, Ipswich, Newburyport and Rye Beach to Portsmouth. Many fine beaches will lure for and ocean dip on this route.

Continue on across the Interstate Memorial Bridge to Kittery, Maine, and follow the Maine coast line all the way to Calais. Measured as an airline route, the distance to Calais is 212 miles, but the actual distance, because of bays and indentations is about 2500 miles. However, this trip is narrowed down to 543 miles.

The treaty between Russia and Japan was signed at Kittery, a United States Naval base, and the "Ranger," John Paul Jones' ship, was launched nearby at Badger's Island. Pass on through York Harbor, Kennebunkport, Old Orchard Beach and the two Promenades to Portland.

Drive through Brunswick, Bath, New-castle, where old colonial type homes can be seen, Rockland, Rockport, Northport, Belfast, Winterport and Hampden to Bangor, a distance of 341 miles from Portsmouth.

Cross the Penobscot River to Brewer and drive through East Holden to Ellsworth. Bear left through Hancock, Gouldsboro, Millbridge, Harrington, Columbia Falls, Machias, where the first naval battle of the United States was fought, Whiting, Pembroke and Perry to Eastport, the most easterly city in the United States.

Here is the famous Fort Sullivan, an old powder house, a great point of interest with visitors. Follow the coast line back to Perry and pass through Robbinston to Calais.

From Calais, drive through Baring, past Meddybemps Lake to Wesley. Here the Air Line road to Beddington and Aurora is met. Pass from Aurora through Amherst and Clifton back to Bangor.

From Bangor head into the lake country. Drive through Carmel and Etna to Newport, where Sebasticook Lake is located. Bear left through Pittsfield and continue south along the banks of the Kennebec River to Waterville. Turn right and pass through Oakland to the famous Belgrade Lake district. This is one of the show places of the State.

From Belgrade, drive to Augusta, the capital of the State. From Augusta, bear right through Winthrop to Auburn. Drive south through Danville and Gray back to Portland.

For the return trip it is suggested that the motorist use some route covered in the first part of the journey, or call at the club's Ardmore office any week day or Thursday evening for additional information.

WOMEN SHOPPERS ARE KEEN FOR QUALITY

"What interests women most when it comes to buying table necessities?" This question was asked of Joseph J. Whiteside, of Whiteside Bros., dealers in fruits and vegetables, at 237 Haverford avenue. This firm also sells fish on Fridays.

"Quality," was the reply. "Quality means everything to the housewife. Low prices may have a fascination for a few, but one never finds quality and low prices together. A penny here and there saved should not be done at the expense of family health. A trifle more is asked for quality provisions, but the purchases are well worth it. There is a relief in knowing that one is able to get the best the market affords. Health demands it."

"Yes quality is always sought. Next is cleanliness, and after that delivery. Our orders are delivered right to the door and this service is appreciated by those who desire to spare their vitality during these warm and sultry days."

REFRIGERATION VALUE
IN THE WARM WEATHER

Special refrigeration is required to keep meats in their proper condition during the warm months. Every precaution is taken by George M. Dando, the market merchant of Narberth, at 105 Forest avenue, to keep the meats fresh when the weather is warmest.

In this way, the highest quality meats are kept fresh. Day and night the refrigeration system is kept at its coldest point, in order to maintain freshness.

In a like way, the provisions sold at this store are purchased from the produce marts, where the buying is done long before the breakfast hour in Narberth, and brought to the store to be sold fresh for the table. This store makes it a point to deliver promptly.

CONVENIENT TO BUY
NEEDS FOR CHILDREN

The convenience of home buying is found in shopping at the Patricia Elizabeth Shop, of which Mrs. Lillian F. Hutchinson is proprietor, in the theater building, Narberth.

This store carries merchandise that will appeal to mothers, especially anxious to buy frocks and dresses for their children. Mrs. Hutchinson carries an unusual large assortment of such summer frocks, and they are in all sizes. There is also a plentiful assortment of underwear for children and women, as well as hosiery and novelties.

There are many interesting and useful things to be bought here, in preference to making a costly shopping trip to Philadelphia.

Mrs. Hutchinson is already showing late summer and fall shades in Humming Bird full-fashioned hosiery.

The store also carries a complete line of infants' wear and gifts.

Summer Rector at All Saints' Church Declares Religion Must Have Church

"Religion without a church is just about as vague and indefinite as a summer morning mist," declared the Rev. R. E. Charles, rector of Christ Church, Adrian, Michigan, in a sermon delivered recently in All Saints' Episcopal Church, Wynnewood, of whose services he has charge until September, when the rector, Rev. Gibson Bell, will return.

"Education without institutions of learning would be very difficult; the same can be said of religious training."

"We need the religion the church can give. Some say that no church satisfies the needs of people. Well, unless we have a taste and appetite for it, no religion or any other thing will ever satisfy our wants."

"We have heard it said, 'I can understand Christ when I can understand Christians,' and many of us concede that the church through its members does not adequately represent Christ to the world. Can the church fulfill the function for which her master founded it?"

"If we permit it to become self-centered, the church will face failure. Too many of us fall in with the ways of the world, whose people don't understand self-sacrifice, and who fail to appreciate it when they see it exhibited. We allow the laws of expediency and of all the world to interfere with us in our performance of the Master's work."

"We are accused of being hypocrites, and we appear to be such. But our real weakness is not that we are pretending to be something that we are not, but that we haven't caught the vision of the thing we ought to be. We don't see it."

"We forget Christ saved the world by giving His life for the people, and we fail to make the most of our own lives. The church would not be placed on the defensive if we had more of the spirit of the early martyrs, who did not hesitate to give their lives for it."

"But it is significant to note that, for all our failings, increases in church membership last year were greater in proportion than increases in population."

"People are becoming more awake to their need of the church. They are beginning to see that without it, religion would be an individualistic superstition."

The Presbyterian Church.

Press the Pedal and oil your car

Motor cars of high price, such as the Rolls Royce, prize Bijur centralized chassis lubrication as an invaluable feature.

Nash, at moderate price, has it as standard equipment on all "400" Advanced Six Models.

Bijur operation is simplicity itself—and it is invariably efficient regardless of changes in temperature.

There's a lever conveniently placed for your left toe at the floor board.

Simply depress it once and 21 points are automatically oiled, including all spring shackles.

Bother and expense of service station lubrication are eliminated.

Wear at vital chassis points is avoided.

Annoying squeaks and groans are stopped before they start.

The world has a new and finer motor car, with features of excellence hitherto found only on very costly cars. Bijur Centralized Chassis Lubrication is one of them.

MILLER Deluxe
6-PLY
BALLOON

Miller has produced a new-type tire for the driver who doesn't want to be careful of tire equipment. In place of the customary warning "use care with your tires"—we tell you "treat 'em rough"—as rough as you like. This tire was built to resist a lot of abuse—to stand today's speed and hard driving conditions—and last as long as you keep your car.

Miller Test Fleet Couldn't Wear It Out

Before announcing this tire to the public—Miller sent it to the rough roads of Southwest Texas on the wheels of the Miller Test Fleet.

You will never punish this tire as they did. Month after month—55 miles per hour steadily—600 miles a day over the toughest roads in the entire country at temperatures never below 80 degrees and more often over 90. And the test cars have yet to find the limits of this great tire's endurance. They have driven more in 30 days than you will drive in 12 months. Think what that means to you in extra mileage and greater service.

Puncture Hazard Eliminated

It is practically impossible to puncture the Deluxe Balloon. Tread is 50% thicker—extra heavy carcass of 6 plies has 60% more strength. You should never be bothered with road delays due to ordinary causes with this new-type tire on your car.

Come See This Tire

We'll show you how it's built—inside and outside. Lift it—and note the difference in weight. Compare its massive thickness with any tire—even the heavy duties. What you see will amaze you.

wanted. She arrived home tired and weary after hours of struggling with the crowds. In fact she had become tired and came home without getting some of the things she wanted.

Walking along the business section here, she saw one of the items she hadn't purchased in the window at an attractive price. Easily and comfortably, in a few minutes, she purchased the gift in this store. And most important, at a price less than she had expected to pay out-of-town.

In fact she had discovered that she could have done the same with all her purchases. She had wasted a half day and money out-of-town, fighting to make purchases she had made.

Let us trace the dollar bill in our communities. When it is spent here, it goes to the merchant, and he in turn uses it for other expenditures—rent, light, etc., and the landlord in turn spends it with the grocery man, butcher, druggist, and so on. If people here could travel with a dollar bill for one week and see the number of hands through which it passes, they would never hesitate in doing all their buying at home.

"Boost Our Home Merchants" is a timely slogan. The merchants need this community support, and above all the community benefits by it.

NARBERTH SMOKES

his pop, whereupon Graves crossed the platter for the first run. Brown doubled to center, forwarding Banks. Two runs, three hits, two errors.

Cornog singled and stole second. Gene singled to center, forwarding the Swarthmore star. Martin got over a solitaire lick, forcing Davis out on second and Master skied to the one-armed star out in center field.

In the fourth Narberth scored two to pass the foreigners, but fell back as Piedmont quickly marked up two in the following frame. Gillespie, of Villanova College, started the fourth with a one-base hit and Cornog dittoed, forcing the "backstop" out on second, and Babb doubled. Davis whiffed and Al was chucked out when caught between third and home. Babb advanced to third in the meantime. Martin made first on a close play, shipping in the second run for a tie.

Master nabbed first as the first-baseman stepped off his bag when he received the pitcher's poor assist and Babb came home. Two runs, five hits, no errors.

Turner singled to short and Brown shoved the pill out to right for one base. Master's overthrow to first resulted in Turner's scoring and Gillespie's failure to hold a called strike gave the visitors the second point as Brown sneaked in. Two runs, four hits, two errors.

Two considerably short innings featured the fifth and sixth frames; Narberth and Piedmont both chucking out three men in quick fashion followed by the locals' lucky inning. With the score against them Narberth was determined to rally and, that they did, with five markers. Cornog began presto! with a double to Windsor avenue, and Babb skied to short. Davis slapped the cowhide far out into right, shipping in Aly from second. Martin repeated Gene's feat, his hard drive going to the one-armed player, who sprinted about 15 yards for the apple as Davis took the fourth plate with ease. Bob made for the pentagon as Master grounded to left and McMonagle walked and stole second. Mike ripped a whistling liner to right, admitting both Walt and Mac. Five runs, five hits, no errors.

The fact that Piedmont only scored one in the final session does not designate that Narberth had them stopped, for the lanes were jammed and only Monsieur Walter Master is to be congratulated in getting his gang out of a terrible hole. Turner surrendered on strikes and Brown strolled. Grant slapped a hard one out to Martin, who performed a few acrobatic feats before he finally had the ball under control and threw it in as Grant reached second. Wilson took first as Babb muffed one, and Feigison was the third man to fill the bags. Graves' retirement by the throw-out device saved for the day

Early Settlers Had Their Own Ideas of Appropriate Place Names

Not all odd names for places are to be found in Lower Merion, with its quaint and distinctive Welsh names for towns and roads. Pennsylvania is filled with quaint place names. Many have an Indian tinge, others suggest a landscape or a work of nature.

The worst are names like Ambler—a town started by the American Bridge Company which displayed but slight imagination. Donora is another in that class.

"Is there any law which governs the naming of new towns in Pennsylvania?" is a question that has been often asked.

There is none, but there may not be two post offices of the same name in any State. Founders of a town, like parents of a baby, can attach to it any name they like.

Hence the many curious ones which dot the map of Pennsylvania. Only a few have real significance. Were every city and hamlet to live up to its name Decorum in Huntingdon would never need a constable.

What better place to get breakfast than at Cereal in Westmoreland? And we suppose there are no unlocked stable doors at Boltz, Indiana.

But who in H— named Aitch in Huntingdon?

They Come From Angels.

Picture the girls of Angels, in Wayne county, while you shudder at the constant noise at Barking, Allegheny.

You have been told that two birds in a bush are not worth so much as one in the hand. Does everybody live up to that rule at Bird-in-hand, Lancaster?

Governor Pinchot's political ambitions appear to be a hardy evergreen, but do all the trees at Blooming Grove, in his home county, Pike, grow roses and such?

Is Bridesburg the best place in Pennsylvania to find a wife or Mars in Butler the surest place to get into a fight?

La Belle should be the prettiest town in the State, but many outside of Fayette will deny that it is so.

Nor is Large even the metropolis of Allegheny county. Lofty is not the highest place in Schuylkill, nor is Montoursville within many miles of Montour county.

No king named Charles or any other ever dwelt at Charleroi nor did a French king's son ever dwell in Dauphin county.

How do the whiskers grow at Burnside in Clearfield and are they of stoutest heart at Brave in Greene?

They have the dough out in Adams county, what with their fine farms and orchards, but is there most ready money at Cashion?

We suppose everybody's bread has butter on both sides at Creamery, yet we know that not everyone is king or queen at Crown out in Clarion. There are just as severe winds elsewhere in Pennsylvania as at Cyclone. McKean for the 1928 Main Line champions.

I. WARNER ARTHUR

Margaret Arthur, Berwyn; two daughters, Mrs. Bernard Gane, 20 Roberts road, Bryn Mawr, at whose home he died, and Mrs. Samuel Moore, whose guest he was in California, where he had sought for months to recuperate from illness; and two sons, I. Warner, Jr., Ogden, Utah, and Charles, in California. The squire had partially recovered from his old complaint, neuritis, and was returning from a trip through Yellowstone Park to his son's home in Utah, when he was seized with cerebral paralysis and was brought home, where he died.

county.
Was Dauberville in Berks named for an aspiring artist and who in Montgomery now seeks an oracle at Delphi?

Their wealth in Venango gushed from America's first great oil wells, but that does not explain the town of Diamond.

Distant from what is the burg of that name in Armstrong?

Anyhow, Dott is now big enough to belie its own name. It must be that others beside the wives talk back at Echo.

Were they pressed for time when somebody in Washington county, which now fosters mighty football players, fastened upon a village there Eighty-four. Or was it the result of a game of hide-and-seek?

They work hard at Endeavor in Forest, but just as much over in Enterprise in Warren, Earnest in Indiana and Industry in Beaver.

You might guess from its name, Film, that one great section of Allegheny is a motion-picture show. They treat 'em rough in Elk at Force and we suppose no jail is required at Freedom in Butler.

'Twas Hazardous?

Nobody knows for sure how Brandywine got its strange name and we wonder who called that other place Hazard?

Still, it must be said there is no hoax about York county's Hokes and it is one big family at Home in Indiana.

A sweet place is Honey Grove in Juniata, but it is rivaled in that respect by Sugar Notch and, of course, there is no bitter in Bradford's Sugar Run.

Jersey Shore in New Jersey is 200 miles from Lycoming and we'll bet babies cry at Jollytown same as other places.

Maybe the beer flows freely at Kegg, but for educated drinkers go to Vintage in Lancaster, if the name means what the world usually implies.

When canal boats by thousands roamed that way Lock Haven just naturally began its great career.

Main Street—Plus!

Main street runs everywhere, but Pennsylvania has a whole town, Mainville. And we suspect it is about the size of Mammoth, in Westmoreland.

Russians in Lackawanna feel at home at Moscow as Germans do at Berlin in Somerset and Netherlands in Clarion at Dutch Hill.

Are poets more common at Limerick or Muse? Neath what is that Bradford town?

Five-and-tent stores flourish at Nickelville in Venango, but who baptized Obelisk in Montgomery?

They are not just plain yes men and women at Ono, Lebanon.

Odd, too, you find Orient in the western end of Pennsylvania and the better Ohl flourishes in wooded Jefferson.

They still had them in Pike when Panther was born and they really were Picture Rocks along Bigger than its name signifies is Point. Today the iron horse is too prevalent to be a curiosity, but not so when, in York, they named a town Railroad.

However, there are many forward-looking folks living at Retreat and many persons walk at Ryde. We never learned who supplied the bromo at Seltzer in Schuylkill.

They have their full share of sunshine at Showers, nor do they, in Center county, always require a Snow Shoe.

We wonder what is the history behind the modest little town in Jefferson called Soldier

MEET AT OLD PLACE

The August meeting of Council will be held Monday night at the Community Building, inasmuch as their new quarters in the rejuvenated fire house are completed but unfurnished, and Council refuses to occupy them until they are completely equipped and furnished.

AIRMAIL STAMPS HERE

Five-cent airmail stamps are now on sale at the Narberth post office. This new rate is for mail of an ounce or less which hitherto cost 10 cents the half ounce.

WERE HOSTS TO DANES

Peter Kvind and Professor Olaf Fried Hansen, of Denmark, who were visitors at last week's meeting of the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club, were entertained following the luncheon by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Vanderbeck, of Cynwyd.

CONTRASTS

It's a far call from the blazing hot sun of an August day to the bleak, cloud-obscured sky of dreary winter, but it takes all kinds of weather to make a year; and seashore resort, electric fan and iced drinks of summer-time will give way this winter, as they have in the past, to the bitter cold days when a good hot fire will be a necessity in every furnace.
